PAST CHAMPIONS

NOTE: CAA basketball history begins with the 1982-83 season when the league was known as the "ECAC South." League membership consisted of East Carolina, George Mason, James Madison, Navy, Richmond and William & Mary. It was the first year when league members paid dues to fund their own operations. Three previous years of ECAC South basketball - 1980-82 - are not included. Membership for those years included teams which had left the league prior to 1982-83.

NOTE: All six charter members of the South Atlantic Field Hockey/Lacrosse Conference competed in the CAA's inaugural lacrosse championship in the spring of 1992 at Old Dominion. The South Atlantic already consisted of five CAA member schools (AU, JMU, ODU, UR and W&M). As a charter member of the South Atlantic, Loyola participated in the CAA championship on an adjunct basis from 1992-2001. From 1993-95, Delaware was an adjunct member in the sport of lacrosse.

CAA MEN'S SOCCER PAST CHAMPIONS

NOTE: The first conference championship - 1983 - was determined by a playoff of the two teams with the best records from conference play. Starting in 1984 the championship was determined by single round-robin, regular-season competition. The 1990 season marked the inaugural post-season tournament to determine the recipient of the conference's automatic bid.

CAA SCHOLAR-ATHLETE AWARD WINNERS

In 2002-03, the conference began honoring a CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year in each of its championship sports. Nominees for the award must be a starter or important reserve on their team and must meet the Academic All-America minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.25. The winners were selected by a vote of the sports information directors at each CAA institution. At the end of the year, the conference also selected a Male and Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year from the group of sport winners.

Starting in 2017-18, a new process emerged for selecting scholar-athlete awards, with each of the CAA's 10 institutions nominating a scholar-athlete for the award, with the conference recognizing them for their outstanding accomplishments in addition to men's and women's basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year honorees. Additionally, the CAA's Academic Affairs Committee chooses a male and female Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

CAA LEADERSHIP & SPORT EXCELLENCE AWARD WINNERS

Begun following the 2017-18 year, the award mirrors the Dean Ehlers Leadership Award, which is presented in men's and women's basketball, and the Chuck Boone Leadership Award, which is presented in football. One student-athlete was chosen from each of the 19 other sports sponsored by the CAA for embodying the highest standards of leadership, integrity, teamwork and sportsmanship in his or her academic and athletic achievements. After reviewing the nominees, the Faculty Athletic Representatives in the CAA voted on the winners.

JOHN H. RANDOLPH INSPIRATION AWARD

The John H. Randolph Inspiration Award recognizes individuals who through strength of character and human spirit serve as an inspiration to all to maximize their potential and ability for success. It is named after former William & Mary athletic director John Randolph, who lost a courageous battle with cancer in 1995.

2020: Aashaka Desai, Delaware

Desai, a native of Dubai, United Arab Emirates, lost most of her ability to hear and got hearing aids at the age of 12. Wanting the opportunity to play collegiate golf in the United States and pursue a degree in computer science, she made the decision to move halfway across the world to attend the University of Delaware. Desai excelled in the classroom, achieving a 3.83 grade point average while double majoring in computer science and cognitive science.

2020: Yeedee Thaeenrat, Towson

Thaeenrat moved to the United States when he was just five years old as he and members of his family escaped war-torn Liberia during the country's second civil war. They eventually settled in Philadelphia where Thaeenrat, who grew up playing soccer, learned football and used it to bond with friends as he learned English as a second language. He developed into a standout running back, but nearly had his career come to an end after suffering a severely broken ankle in high school.

2019: Kionna Jeter, Towson

While outside her home with family on February 3, 2018, Jeter was shot twice in the back in a drive-by shooting. One bullet nearly hit her heart, while the other fractured her shoulder blade. After months of rehab, Jeter returned to the court and led Towson to a historic 2018-19 season in which the Tigers captured their first CAA Championship in program history, earning the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament bid.

2018: Trai Sharp, James Madison

In the midst of a breakout game on Sept. 16, the JMU running back learned that his father had passed away. Two weeks following his father's death, Sharp ran for a career-high 185 yards and a touchdown.

2017: Kathryn Ostrom, UNCW

UNCW women's swimmer who missed two seasons after heart valve surgery. She came back her senior year and placed in the top-12 in the backstroke events at the CAA Championships.

2016: Nicole Dennion, Elon

Elon women's soccer player who managed to complete her degree while battling Ewing's sarcoma, a rare childhood bone cancer. The disease would later take her life, just months after graduation.

2015: Dr. Maravene Loeschke, Towson

Former Towson University president who launched numerous mentoring and leadership programs before being diagnosed with cancer.

2014: Heather Hartman, Delaware

Delaware field hockey player who overcame a battle with Hodgkin's Lymphoma and returned to the field for the Blue Hens.

2013: Nick Colleluori, Hofstra

Hofstra men's lacrosse player who, after being diagnosed with non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma, established the HEADstrong Foundation to support those affected by blood cancers. The disease would later take his life.

UNCW Women's Soccer Team

The Seahawks were honored for their work with 7-year Baylee Adkins and the Friends of Jaclyn Organization, which pairs children suffering from pediatric brain tumors with collegiate athletic teams.

2012: Shelia Moorman, James Madison

James Madison coach and administrator who served as a mentor and tireless advocate for the student-athlete experience.

2011: Steven Vincent, Delaware

Delaware track and cross country runner who battled epileptic seizures throughout his collegiate career.

2010: Dawn Evans, James Madison

JMU women's basketball player who overcame a debilitating kidney disease to lead her team to the conference championship.

2009: Meghan Bain, James Madison

JMU field hockey player who was hit by a car and suffered massive injuries. Through intensive rehabilitation she returned to play the next fall.

2008: T.J. Carter, UNCW

UNCW men's basketball player who returned for his senior season after undergoing 3 surgeries and missing an entire season due to sports hernia surgery.

2007: Nicole Hester, Drexel

Drexel women's basketball player who battled cancer without interruption to her basketball career.

2006: Kevin DuPrey, Delaware

Delaware track and cross country runner who overcame the debilitating effects of Lyme Disease to resume competition.

2005: Julia Shapiro, Delaware

Delaware tennis player who overcame the effects of Multiple Sclerosis to serve as team co-captain.

2004: Beth Childs, Drexel

Drexel women's tennis player who lost part of her foot in an automobile accident but returned to play her senior year.

Alan Lindsey, James Madison

James Madison baseball player who underwent two open-heart surgeries after suffering a serious bacterial infection, returning to play the final weeks of his senior season.

Brannon Thomas, William & Mary

William & Mary men's soccer player who had surgery to remove a tumor from his brain, but returned to action late in the same season.

2003: Ricky Beecher, Towson

Towson men's lacrosse player who donated a liver to his uncle in order to save his uncle's life.

2002: Paul Tuohey, Drexel

Drexel men's lacrosse player with Cerebral Palsy who's positive attitude earned the team MVP award without scoring a goal or assist.

2001: Mandy Welch, Delaware

Delaware softball player who overcame an 80% hearing loss to become a 1st team all conference player.

2000: Laura Kenney & Liz Paoli, George Mason

George Mason women's lacrosse players who were seriously injured when they were struck by a car on a team trip. Laura was in a coma for 2 months, yet graduated from GMU with a 4.00 GPA. Through intensive rehabilitation, Liz was able to return to competition for her senior year.

1999: Maria-Elena Calle, VCU

VCU track athlete who recovered from serious injuries after being struck by a car while on a training run to achieve CAA Athlete of the Year and All-America status.

1998: Felicia Allen, Old Dominion

Old Dominion women's basketball team manager who courageously battled a rare form of cancer while attending school and serving as the team manager.

1997: Scott Pearson, American

American University men's soccer player who overcame the death of his mother and became very active in the Big Brothers program in Washington.

1996: Barbara Blosser, William & Mary

William & Mary associate athletic director who served as interim athletic director during John Randolph's illness.

John Welbourn, East Carolina

East Carolina cross country coach who successfully battled cancer while coaching at ECU.

CAA 25TH ANNIVERSARY TEAMS

As part of its 25th Anniversary celebration in 2009-10, the CAA recognized Silver Anniversary teams in 21 championship sports. The teams were selected by a panel of current and former coaches in the conference. As a culmination to the CAA's 25th Anniversary celebration, a committee of administrators from each of the CAA's 12 member institutions was given the daunting task of selecting 25 CAA "Silver Stars" - the 25 student-athletes who had the greatest impact on the conference over the past 25 years.
